BIO PASTOR ABE DE FIN

Abe de Fin came to Christ in his hometown in South Africa through the ministry of Rev. J. H Berry (whose daughter Lillian de Fin he married a few years later.) He left an electrical engineering firm to join Rev. Berry in ministry in 1980, being involved with evangelism, church planting, bible school teaching and local pastoral work. After Rev. Berry retired Abe remained as Senior Pastor until the late 1990's when he handed the leadership of the church to their eldest son Peter de Fin. Abe still serves as one of the senior ministers of this church: Acts Christian Church in Midrand, Johannesburg, South Africa.

Pastor Abe also runs a non profit organization TEND International specializing in skills training with a special emphasis on developing skills in young people to empower them to become employable, as well as small farm development (empowering communities to become self sufficient). Through TEND International Pastor Abe has reached many African countries including Swaziland, Lesotho, Mozambique, Zambia, Malawi, Zimbabwe and South Sudan by successfully drilling boreholes and thus providing clean water to hundreds of families.

Lilian de Fin Bio.

Great-granddaughter of Smith Wigglesworth, the "Apostle of Faith", renowned for his total trust in God and His divine healing, Lillian de Fin fondly known as Pastor Lil was born in the Belgian Congo to missionary parents. Her Mother was Alice Wigglesworth who married Harold Berry. Harold and Alice worked together in Africa for many years, establishing ministries in Southern Africa including what is now Soweto Bible College and Acts Christian Church in Johannesburg. When the Berry's retired Abe and Lil de Fin pastored the church for twenty years and have now handed the leadership over to their son, Pastor Peter de Fin and his wife Tammy. Pastor Lil exhorts her listeners under a strong prophetic anointing with clear and accurate insight. Abe and Lil have three sons and nine grandchildren.
